Dr Rajendra Sharma offers in depth consultation on general health for the purpose of treating, disease, disorder and injury. His objective is to provide a patient experience focussing on life style, diet and exercise and the use of homeopathy, supplements and natural approaches to medicine where needed.

He uses safe and medically supervised complementary therapies but is also mindful of the benefits and importance of conventional medical care.

Dr Sharma has an interest in conditions associated with ageing and long standing health complaints. His personal approach aims to offer understanding and respect for a patient's individual needs, views and wishes.

Consultations are geared towards ensuring a patient follows the best medical approach and this may involve assessment of nutritional status and diet.

For those not able to see him in London he works out of Holmedale Health a clinic in Exeter, Devon on Mondays and Fridays.

Consultation are provided at:

- The Ella Clinic, 106 Harley St, London W1G 7JE
- 19 Devonshire St, London W1G 7AH
- Holmedale Health, 34 Denmark Rd, Exeter, Devon EX1 1SE
